Singapore-based Ocean Network Express (ONE) has suspended container bookings to and from Russia. It made the announcement hours after Denmark-based Maersk said that it was considering doing the same in response to Western sanctions on Moscow following its invasion of Ukraine.

ONE said in a customer advisory that “booking acceptance to and from St Petersburg, Russia is suspended with immediate effect until further notice whilst we evaluate the operational feasibility”.

ONE added that it had also suspended bookings for the Russian port of Novorossiisk, and for the Ukrainian container port of Odessa.

Germany's Hapag Lloyd said on February 24th that it had issued a temporary suspension on bookings for Russia and had halted sailings for Ukraine.
